

Primary Home-School Agreement

Working Together for Success

At Redfield Educate Together, we believe that children achieve their very best when school and home, work together in partnership. This agreement reflects our shared commitment to excellent attendance, positive behaviour, children's rights, and The Redfield Way: Be Ready, Safe and Kind.

The School Agrees To

- Provide a safe, inclusive and welcoming environment where every child is valued and respected.
- Promote a Rights Respecting approach where children understand and uphold the rights of others and their own.
- Teach and model The Redfield Way: Be Ready, Safe and Kind.
- Promote high standards of behaviour, learning and attendance.
- Communicate regularly with families about children's progress, achievements and wellbeing.
- Support children to develop confidence, resilience and independence.

Parents and Carers Agree To

- Ensure my child attends school every day and arrives on time, ready to learn.
- Avoid taking holidays during term time unless there are exceptional circumstances.
- Support the school's behaviour expectations and reinforce The Redfield Way at home.
- Work in partnership with the school to resolve concerns respectfully and promptly.
- Ensure my child is appropriately dressed, equipped and prepared for school each day.
- Encourage respect for the rights of all members of the school community.

Pupils Agree To

- Follow The Redfield Way by being Ready, Safe and Kind every day.
- Come to school regularly and on time so that I do not miss learning.
- Respect the rights, feelings and differences of others.
- Try my best, listen carefully and take pride in my learning.
- Look after school property, my belongings and our environment.
- Ask for help when I need it and help others when I can.

Attendance Matters

- Excellent attendance gives children the best chance to learn, achieve and build strong friendships.
- We will work together to ensure attendance is a priority and that any barriers are addressed quickly.

Together, we commit to building a strong partnership that helps every child thrive and succeed at Redfield Educate Together
